

“Advanced Enneagram”

With
Eileen Darwin & Mark Klaassen

- The Variants - Social / Sexual / Self Preservation
- The Wake-up Calls and The Manipulations
- The "Range" - Unhealthy / Average / Healthy
- Unconscious & Lost Childhood Messages
- Love & Relationships
- 7 Tools for Transformation

Previous attendees say...

“Relaxing environment, felt comfortable in surroundings. To discuss openly and honestly the Enneagram model has helped my understanding of how I relate to others and me, and especially to understand the differences and the depth of those differences in each personality – and how it impacts on relationships.”

Colleen Bryant, Coach - Success Alliance, NLP Trainer

“A great weekend. I gained a lot more insight into the Enneagram, brought things to my attention that I was overlooking. I feel more confident in my understanding and ability to use the Enneagram for personal development, and in relationships. Environment – I felt was comfortable and welcoming. Would be good not to sit for so long! Good energy in the room and good for flow. And thank you for bringing me back when I was drifting off!”

Felicity Hopkins, Director and NLP Trainer

“Enjoyed the learning environment, especially the fresh air, pleasant environment and comfy seats... Enjoyed the one-on-one sharing with partner about relationships... some great insights into my / others motivations, personalities and levels within each Type.”

James Mayhew, Fencing Contractor and NLP Master Practitioner

“A light, airy room – I liked the space. Motivations – will help to think about this when getting to know other Enneagram Types. I enjoyed pairing up to talk about specific relationships and then hearing from others. Good resource book – thanks. It seemed a very good sequence of topics.”

Carol Knutson, Manager and NLP Practitioner

“I enjoyed the venue – the less formal nature, nice place and added to the Mark and Eileen experience. The course – nice progression – allowed us to assimilate topics before getting deeper. Post course – (advanced) continued study and interaction... happy to participate in getting this model to others – enjoyed your honesty and candidness!!!”

Brian Evans, Manager and NLP Practitioner

Veil of Illusion: Sacred psychology sees personality as a false-self system. The “true self” is Spiritual in nature. It was overshadowed in early life when attention turned to meet the needs of survival. Over time we have identified strongly with the characteristics of our type, and came to rely on conditioned perceptions, that we forgot our true nature and “became” our personality, or “false-self”.
Illusion is the natural starting place for both Psychological and Spiritual growth...
